Read the UK first day checklist. Find the course text and read sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 26, and 35. Note that not of all of the material is relevant (or true) for your specific job – but it’s something to think about as you approach your first assignment as a teaching assistant. We’ll discuss some of it on our first day.

One more thing: have your teaching assignment (course numbers, times, and rooms) written down to give to me at the first course meeting.
