

1. HOMEWORK 11

Write a couple paragraphs about your teaching. You don't have to write a complete teaching statement, but write something you'd put in a teaching statement. You could write about a specific experience and its lessons, or a goal you have in teaching, or something you try to keep in mind while teaching. Try to write something that makes your reader think positively about your teaching!