

1. HOMEWORK 5

This week's homework is a self-reflection piece: what is an aspect of your classroom management skills that you'd particularly like to improve, and why? You can write about something we've already touched on – lecturing, group work, etc., or something entirely different. I'll organize our October 15 class around the answers.