

Modeling Middle School Mathematics

mmmproject.org

This website contains videos of lessons in real middle school classrooms on a variety of topics in number, algebra, measurement, geometry, and data analysis. In addition to the video clips, there are transcripts, teacher pages, and examples of student work. These videos offer revealing glimpses on ways teachers can engage students in active mathematics learning and comprehension through guided problem solving.